A woman with long dark hair, wearing safety glasses and a black t-shirt, is focused on her work. She is wearing a black glove on her right hand and holding a spool of solder. She is using a soldering iron to work on a piece of stained glass that features a green background with a black outline of a face. The workshop is filled with various stained glass projects, including a large piece with a red and orange flame-like pattern and another with a blue and white abstract design. A coiled spring tool is visible on the workbench.

“ What I find magical about stained glass is how the experience of it is ever-changing.
